2. History and profile of the agency

The foundations of ANACEC were laid in 2013, when the Law on Education in force at that stage was supplemented with a separate article that provided for the establishment of an entity responsible at national level for the external quality evaluation in education. In the same context, in 2014 the Interim Board was established, which over the course of a year prepared the normative and methodological basis for the establishment of the respective entity. Thus, in 2015, pursuant to art. 115 (1) of the Education Code no. 152/2014, the National Agency for Quality Assurance in Professional Education (ANACIP) was established, with the status of an administrative authority of national interest with distinct responsibilities in the field of quality assurance in education, autonomous from the Government, independent in its decisions and organization.

In 2017, in the context of the implementation of the Strategy on the reform of public administration for 2016-2020 in the Republic of Moldova, through changes in the Education Code, the national system of external quality assurance in education and research was redesigned, including the legal status of the entity responsible for the external quality evaluation at the national level. Later, in 2018, the Government approved, by GD no. 201/2018, the Regulation on the organization and operation of the National Agency for Quality Assurance in Education and Research, which details the mission, functions, tasks, rights of the Agency and the way of organizing its activity.

According to its Mission, the Agency implements state policies and contributes to the development oriented towards the best international standards in the areas of competence assigned.

The functions established by the legislative and normative framework are carried out in two major areas: (1) general education, vocational education and training, higher education and continuous professional training, and (2) research and innovation.

In order to carry out its mission, the Agency ensures and performs the following processes:

- quality evaluation in general education;
- quality evaluation in vocational education and training;
- quality evaluation in higher education;
- external evaluation of continuous professional training programmes;
- external evaluation of organizations in the fields of research and innovation;
- evaluation of the scientific and scientific-teaching staff;
- quality control of general education, vocational education and training (VET) and continuous education, compliance with accreditation and authorization requirements of entities offering educational programmes and services.

In order to carry out the duties delegated by the Government, the Agency has developed and, after approval by the competent structures, applies a series of methodological documents, including Methodology of external quality evaluation for the authorization of provisional operation and accreditation of vocational education and training, higher education and professional continuous training study programmes and institutions (GD no. 616/2016, with subsequent amendments and additions).

Action plan for the external review of the National Agency for Quality Assurance in Education and Research

Since its establishment, according to the normative regulations in force, ANACIP/ANACEC has mainly focused on the external evaluation of study programmes. The external evaluation processes and procedures used in higher education (HE), VET and continuous training are similar, the applied methodology, accreditation standards and performance indicators being the same (GD no. 616/2016, Annexes 2-7). The operational and instrumental aspects of external quality evaluation and the specifics of HE, VET and continuous training are reflected in the 8 Guidelines of External Quality Evaluation, developed for each level of education and university cycle separately, both for the evaluation of study programmes, as well as for institutional evaluation.

Starting from 2018, ANACEC took over from the National Council for Accreditation and Attestation (NCAA), and continued, the process of attestation of scientific and scientific-teaching staff according to established procedures, carried out by the NCAA. At the same time, the tasks of the National School Inspectorate (NSI) were also taken over. Thus, starting with the 2020-2021 academic year, after a piloting stage and developing the related methodological framework, ANACEC initiated the external evaluation process of general education institutions and management staff at this level. The dynamics of the number of decisions issued by the Governing Board for the authorization of provisional operation/accreditation of study programmes and educational institutions, and of decisions on the attestation of scientific and scientific-teaching staff in 2016 - 2021 is represented in Table 1.

Table 1. Dynamics of the number of decisions issued by the Governing Board, period 2016 - 2021

* Evaluations of general education institutions

The figures in the table show that between 2016 and 2021, the external evaluation process was organized and completed for 2120 study programmes in HE (levels 6, 7 and 8 of the NQF), VET (levels 3, 4 and 5 of the NQF) and continuous training. At the same time, it is noticed the doubling of the number of study programmes (especially continuous training programmes) evaluated by ANACEC in 2020, a pandemic year, with multiple restrictions. In 2017 and 2018, 3 institutions (2 VET and 1 continuous training) were authorized for provisional operation or accredited. Also, 85 general education institutions were externally evaluated in 2020-2021, and in 2022 – the Academy of Public Administration under the President of the Republic of Moldova.

The armed conflict at the country's borders could cause political instability that would delay the process of amending the legislative framework.

Risks		Mitigation actions
Limited number and flow of staff within the Department of Higher Education Evaluation and their overload.		Maintaining qualified staff by offering the possibility of competitive salaries in the market and career development opportunities.

Action plan for the external review of the National Agency for Quality Assurance in Education and Research

The entire external evaluation process is carried out in Romanian, which makes it very difficult to involve experts from abroad.		To make it legally possible for the Agency to be able to conduct the external evaluation in English, as well.
Both for ANACEC, its experts and higher education institutions the knowledge of English is also a shortcoming and a challenge when it comes to drafting all the documentation and conduct the evaluation process, an interpreter being needed (translation is quite costly).		To extend the practice of enhancing English knowledge skills of ANACEC staff by providing them with opportunities to learn the language (N.B. Before the pandemic, ANACEC staff benefited from English language courses the cost for which was covered by the Agency).

4. Preparatory steps for the agency's self-assessment and SWOT

The activity of initiating the self-assessment process of ANACEC in accordance with ESG requirements and the ENQA Guidelines for Agency Reviews started already in the summer of 2021. At that stage, it was developed and approved by the Governing Board of ANACEC (decision no. 52 of 25.06.2021) the Action plan for the elaboration of the Self-Assessment Report (SAR) of ANACEC for the purpose of external review and accession as a full member of ENQA and registration in EQAR (Annex no. 1) and established the Composition of the Working Group constituted for the elaboration of the Self-Assessment Report of ANACEC (Annex no. 2).

Although the activity of drafting the Self-Assessment Report and submitting the application to the ENQA Secretariat for external review and registration in EQAR started and was supposed to be completed in November 2021, it was extended (the deadline for submitting the Self-Assessment) until October 2022 for various reasons, such as:

- updating the normative methodological framework;
- the existence in the implementation phase of European projects, where ANACEC is a partner (e.g. SEQA-ESG – with the general objective of supporting quality assurance agencies and national authorities in creating a quality assurance system in compliance with the ESG 2015; QFORTE - among the objectives being the operation of the amendments to the Education Code, the updating of the Methodology of External Evaluation, the Guidelines for Institutional External Evaluation, the elaboration and approval of the external evaluation procedure of the joint study programs);
- the existing human factor, namely the limited number and flow of qualified staff within the Department of Higher Education Evaluation, a subdivision of ANACEC responsible for the activities of external evaluation of the quality of study programmes and higher education institutions.

Thus, up to now, several steps/actions have been planned and carried out regarding the realization of the Agency's self-evaluation process, detailed in this Action Plan (see the following section – 5. Calendar). It should be noted that the Self-Assessment Report, elaborated in Romanian and placed on the ANACEC website, also contains the SWOT analysis itself, currently in draft version.

16.	Decisions of the ENQA and EQAR Boards on the results of the external review	ENQA / EQAR	December, 2023	ENQA Board / EQAR Committee meeting

6. Conclusions

The Action plan for the external review of ANACEC is a result of the efforts made by the Moldovan agency in achieving some of its important objectives, namely aligning / connecting processes to ESG requirements, registering in EQAR and obtaining ENQA membership status.

The project „Supporting European QA Agencies in meeting the ESG (SEQA-ESG)”, coordinated by ENQA, which aims to support quality assurance agencies and national authorities in creating a quality assurance system in line with the European Standards and Guidelines is, therefore, an extraordinary opportunity for ANACEC, as a partner, to achieve these objectives. At the same time, we emphasize the weight and importance of the events organized within the project through the expertise offered and the significant contribution of the experts within the project in the deeper understanding of ESG, the connection of processes and procedures in order to achieve the objectives that the Agency has set forward. The peer learning meetings and workshops, held both online and physically, had a significant role in the development and implementation of concrete actions to align ANACEC with ESG, presented in the context of this Action Plan. Another important result is the fact that the Agency has started the self-assessment process and is currently in the phase of finishing and submitting the Self-Assessment Report for external review against the ESG by ENQA and EQAR.
